

∞ Undergraduate Women in Economics Challenge Meeting ∞

Undergraduate Women in Economics
NBER, 1050 Massachusetts Ave. Cambridge MA
Saturday, May 2, 2015

---

School representatives

Patrick Allen (University of California, Berkeley) pallen@econ.berkeley.edu

Patrick Allen is the Director of Student Services in the Department of Economics at the University of California, Berkeley.

Anthony Becker (St. Olaf College) becker@stolaf.edu

Anthony Becker is Associate Professor of Economics and Chair of the Economics Department at St. Olaf College. He has published in defense economics, environmental policy, and antitrust, and is writing a book on sports economics. His teaching areas include econometrics, statistical analysis, microeconomic theory, and antitrust and regulation.

Janet Currie (Princeton University) jcurrie@princeton.edu

Janet Currie is Henry Putnam Professor of Economics and Public Affairs and Director of the Center for Health and Well-Being at Princeton University. She was Vice President of the AEA and is the in-coming President of the Society of Labor Economists. Her current research focuses on aspects of child health and the long-term effects of poor health in early childhood.

Susan Hering (University of Wisconsin, Madison) shering@ssc.wisc.edu

Susan Hering is an Undergraduate Advisor at the Department of Economics at the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

Ashley Hodgson (St. Olaf College) hodgsona@stolaf.edu

Ashley Hodgson is Assistant Professor of Economics at St. Olaf College. Her research areas include healthcare, Medicare and public health. Aside from upper level courses, she teaches principles of economics and microeconomic theory.

Candace Howes (Connecticut College) chow@conncoll.edu

Candace Howes is Barbara Hogate Ferrin '43 Professor of Economics, Chair of the Economics Department, and Chair of the Gender and Women's Studies Department at Connecticut College. She is a labor economist who has been working on the long-term-care workforce and low-wage workers.

Sumner La Croix (University of Hawaii at Manoa) lacroix@hawaii.edu

Sumner La Croix is Professor of Economics and Department Chair at the University of Hawaii at Manoa. He is an economic historian and development economist who works on pharmaceutical intellectual property rights, evolution of property rights in land, and the economic history of Hawaii.

Monika Lopez-Anuarbe (Connecticut College) manuarbe@conncoll.edu

Monika Lopez-Anuarbe is Assistant Professor of Economics at Connecticut College. Her specialization fields include health economics, industrial organization, game theory, gerontology and public policy, and her current research concerns long-term care and Hispanics' remittance behavior.

KimMarie McGoldrick (University of Richmond) kmcgoldr@richmond.edu

KimMarie McGoldrick holds the Joseph A. Jennings Chair in Business and is Professor of Economics at the University of Richmond. She has documented the use and efficacy of pedagogical practices in economics. She co-edited The International Handbook on Teaching and Learning Economics and has explored gender differences in the choice to study economics.

Maria Muniagurria (University of Wisconsin, Madison) munia@ssc.wisc.edu

Maria Muniagurria is Faculty Associate and Chair of Undergraduate Studies at the Department of Economics at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. Her research interests are in the fields of international trade, economic development, industrial organization, and health economics.

Melissa Newell (University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign) menewell@illinois.edu

Melissa Newell is an Assistant Director for the Department of Economics Undergraduate Program at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign.

Martha Olney (University of California, Berkeley) molney@econ.berkeley.edu

Martha Olney is Adjunct Professor at the University of California, Berkeley and serves on the board of the AEA's Committee for the Status of Women in the Economics Profession (CSWEP). She has written numerous economics textbooks and is an economic historian who has worked on consumer spending and debt.

Elizabeth Powers (University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign) epowers@illinois.edu

Elizabeth Powers is Director of Undergraduate Studies and Associate Professor of Economics and at the Institute of Government and Public Affairs at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign. Her research interests focus on public economics, welfare programs, and poverty and inequality.

Steven Shulman (Colorado State University) steven.shulman@colostate.edu

Steven Shulman is Professor of Economics and Economics Department Chair at Colorado State University, and research director of the Center for the Study of Academic Labor. His current research focuses on academic labor markets, the tenure system and contingent faculty in higher education.

Kristin Walker (University of Connecticut) kristin.walker@uconn.edu

Kristin Walker is an Undergraduate Academic Advisor for the Department of Economics at the University of Connecticut.

Wei Zhang (Connecticut College) wei.zhang@conncoll.edu

Wei Zhang is Assistant Professor of Economics at Connecticut College. Her research focuses on the economics of environmental regulation and the decision making of firms and farms under particular environmental policies.

Board of Experts

Amanda Bayer (Swarthmore College) abayer1@swarthmore.edu

Amanda Bayer is Professor of Economics at Swarthmore College and the creator and editor of Diversifying Economic Quality, an online resource to improve teaching practices in economics. She co-organized the National Summit on Diversity in the Economics Profession, hosted by the Board of Governors and the AEA. Her research fields are labor economics and game theory.

UWE Challenge organizers

Claudia Goldin (Harvard University) cgoldin@harvard.edu

Claudia Goldin is Henry Lee Professor of Economics at Harvard University and the director of the NBER's Development of the American Economy program. Goldin's research spans many areas, including the economic history of women and education. In 2013/14, she was the president of the AEA. Her recent work concerns the increased employment of older women.

Tatyana Avilova (NBER, Project Manager for UWE) tanya.avilova@gmail.com

Tatyana Avilova is Project Manager for the UWE Challenge. She graduated from Harvard University in 2013 with a degree in Economics and spent the following year in Japan on a Fulbright Fellowship studying nurses' work stress and their work-life balance. She will be working as the UWE Project Manager at the NBER until Fall 2016.

UWE Challenge website:

<http://scholar.harvard.edu/goldin/UWE>