Akos is the best! If he had been allowed to just openly re-use Zagreb's old notes instead of rewriting his (because why bother - Zagreb's are great!), he could have spent more time teaching, which he is good at, and holding office hours.

Sometimes I felt like he assumed too much out of us, and I got lost. But most of the time, great job! Section was a useful part of class, and often was so small that we could ask questions and such.

Akos provides good sections and notes.

Not helpful when it comes to projects

As mentioned before, the feedback I received from him on my coursework was essentially nonexistent, and the deductions I received thus came off as arbitrary

He was very good. I just wish the class was a bit more attentive when he was teaching.

He was the best TF I've had so far. He was always really nice and helpful. He put a lot of effort into it, which was great. Really accessible and really helpful about taking the time to explain things until you understand. Especially in this class, where everything goes so fast, Akos was really great to talk to because he actually makes sure you understand what's going on. Without his section and office hours, I don't think I would have understood anything in this class.

The TF does a good job explaining the material but does not necessarily help put people on the right track with problem sets or projects if they had questions. He does not give any feedback on problem sets and projects returned though.

Good, maybe do practice problems more slowly and explain even concepts that seem simple because those are skipped so quickly in lectures. I appreciate the time you spent making sure to answer any questions we had, though.

Akos really works hard to give the students an understanding of the subject matter.

Akos is a fairly good section leader, but is at times difficult to follow.

Most helpful of all TFs; doesn't give answers but allows us to understand questions and concepts.

I'm not sure I really ever understood what Akos was talking about. I felt like he was using economics that were way above my level. It could also be because he learned economics differently than me so he didn't know what I knew. Regardless it wasn't a good match.

He's a really nice guy, but I didn't take that much away from his sections.

Akos did a great job with section. He's clearly a brilliant guy and also passionate about his work. I found that his sections were very interesting, although sometimes a little too dislocated from the course material, which made it less helpful for problem sets. Nevertheless, he did an awesome job.

I really liked Akos as a TF. He was always very prepared for section and generally gave effective lectures, though they were often pretty much a summary of Glaeser's lecture. Akos was helpful in office hours and very good about responding to questions on Piazza.

Excellent instructor. Superb grasp of the material, and conveys it well. Extremely helpful in office hours - he takes the time to make sure you get the material.
