What is Islamic Law (Fiqh)?

- Islamic Law (Fiqh): Knowledge (ma’rifat) of the Self (nafs) - its rights (ma laha) and its’ responsibilities (ma aleyha).
- Landscape of Islamic Law (fiqh): All areas of human action (body, speech, heart).
- Benefit: Its study brings reward in this life and the next; it is considered an obligation.
- 3 Types of Fiqh:
  - Greatest Fiqh (Theology & Creed) - Realm of Faith (Iman)
  - External Fiqh (Devotional & Interpersonal Relations) - Realm of Action (Islam)
  - Internal Fiqh (Spiritual Cultivation) - Realm of Virtue (Ihsan)
Why Study Islamic Law (Fiqh)?

“It is not right for all the believers to go out (to battle) together: out of each community, a group should go out to gain understanding of the religion (Fiqh), so that they can teach their people when they return and so that they can guard themselves against evil.” (Quran 9:122)

- “Whoever Allah wants good for, Allah grants them understanding of the religion (Fiqh).” – Hadith
- “One person with understanding of the religion is harder on Shaytan than 1000 ignorant followers.” – Hadith
- “Seeking knowledge is an obligation upon every male and female.” – Hadith

Introduction: Theosophy, Purity & Cleanliness

- Narrated by Abu Huraira: “Indeed Allah is Pure and loves only that which is pure. And Allah Almighty has commanded the believers with what He has commanded the Messengers. He has said, ‘Oh Messengers, eat of the pure things and do right.’ and He said, ‘Oh believers, eat of the good things We have provided for you.’ Then the Prophet (pbuh) mentioned the case of a man who after a long journey is disheveled and dusty, who extends his arms towards the sky petitioning God; while his food, drink, clothes, and (entire ecosystem of) nourishment are all unlawful. How is he to be answered (in such as condition)?” – Sahih Muslim
