Ammar Waraich	Public Policy Student & Doctor/Medical Educator	Harvard Kennedy School	I would love to do some small group medical teaching on physical examinations (Neurology in particular), emergency management, radiograph teaching. I can also discuss the trials and rewards of pursuing medicine as a career for any pre-meds or current M.D. candidates. Finally, I would even be keen if medical students wanted to organise regular informal drop-in sessions where they can bring any questions related to their study of medicine and we can answer them together for the benefit of the group members assembled.
