

Economics 1036
“Spring” 2022

Matthew Rabin
HBS and Economics Department
Harvard University

Information Sheet

Please make sure that the filename used sending me this information sheet, as well as your transcript, your resume, and all future documents in this course contains your name. This is best practice in many such situations---if we have 30 documents all named “1036 Information Sheet Winter 2023” it becomes difficult to keep them sorted, or even download them.

Please fill this out this information sheet if you want to be considered for the course, even if you are uncertain whether you will register or continue. Please fill this out in addition to the resume and transcript required to apply for the course. All files should be sent to matthewrabin@fas.harvard.edu.

NAME _____
(Include both name as it appears on transcripts, etc., and as you preferred to be addressed. Please include pronunciation help if you think it might be helpful.)

Preferred e-mail address (printed clearly) _____

If you have not already emailed a cv/resume and an unofficial transcript to Professor Rabin, please do so and fill out any information below that is not completely clear from your transcript. In each category, please also include courses (and flag them as such) that you anticipate taking this term.

Economic theory courses taken, grades

Statistics, econometrics, and math courses taken, grades

Psychology courses taken, grades

Other courses taken that you feel might be relevant

Additional questions continued other side

What stage are you at (e.g., sophomore, junior)? And describe your situation if you're not a regular Harvard Undergraduate. What is your current concentration/major, or your planned concentration/major?

If you had to describe yourself as either a paper product or a meteorological event, what paper product or meteorological event would you describe yourself as? Explain. What paper product or meteorological event would you want to be? Explain.

Assign an exact probability between 0 and 100% that you will be registered for the course as of January 28?

The remaining questions are optional.

Do you have plans for after college?

Do you have any topics potentially related to the seminar that you are especially interested in? (Including any related research projects you've started or thought about, or worked on in the past.)

Add any additional comments that you think might be relevant (e.g., what you intend to get out of the seminar, your background, concerns you have).