Q1. What are the best three things about this course?

I liked The Tempest (but not the movie), the El Pacino/Jeremy Irons version of Merchant of Venice, and Ran (which means we should really watch more Kurosawa.)

1. I got opportunities to read Shakespeare's play. 2. Got opportunities to watch different movies about the plays. 3. Got opportunities to discuss Shakespeare's play in depth.

1. knowledge about shakespeare 2. the play of shakespeare 3. movie adopted from shakespeare's play

Very fun, Very insightful, Cool prof

Course is interesting, well structured, well taught

1. Reading Shakespeare 2. Watching films 3. Discussion

Loved the progression of discussions every week

I like how there are less readings but we can go more in depth into the readings. Interesting course which definitely increased our exposure to Shakespeare.

1. The open discussions and sharing of thoughts and opinions about the topics. 2. We get to see film renditions and different interpretations on Shakespeare's plays, provides different perspectives. 3. Letting us choose which plays to write reflections on

1) Learning life lessons from shakespeare. 2) Manageable workload. 3) Awesome Prof

the design of the course is nice, we get to analyse the text in details and form different aspects, which is cool and inspiring

1) The films were very interesting 2) The class discussion was entertaining 3) Prof. Rhema is very approachable

the readings (some) and learning things about Shakespeare

Movie screening session is nice!
