Breakout Room 3: Drug Prices

• The consensus from the class has been that drug prices are too high in the United States. Through discussing how other countries approach drug prices, the videos have offered several different proposals by which the US can reign in drug prices.

• Which of these proposals do you like the most? The least?
• Which of these will be the hardest to implement?
• Who should benefit the most from drug pricing reforms? (Pharmaceutical companies? Insurance Companies? Patients?)
