

China / Politics

World Health Organisation in touch with Beijing after mystery viral pneumonia outbreak

- Authorities in central city of Wuhan say market will be closed indefinitely 'for sanitation and renovation'
- Law enforcement officers stand guard outside on Wednesday as stallholders allowed to remove seafood stocks

Kristin Huang

Published: 4:59pm, 1 Jan, 2020

TOP PICKS

779

Law enforcement officers stand guard outside the seafood market in Wuhan that was ordered to close after a mystery flu outbreak. Photo: Yangtze Daily